The Chinese University of Hong Kong

Founded in 1963, The Chinese University of Hong Kong (CUHK) is a forward-looking comprehensive research university with a global vision and a mission to combine tradition with modernity, and to bring together the East and the West. CUHK aims to cultivate higher degree graduates to serve the increasingly sophisticated needs of the society. CUHK has 8 Faculties offering undergraduate and postgraduate programmes covering diversified fields.

Faculty of Arts

The Faculty of Arts enjoys a unique reputation for integrating Eastern and Western learning, teaching and research. It effects dialogue within the humanities and pioneers research across disciplines. The Faculty comprises 11 departments, Centre for China Studies, 2 language teaching units, and over 30 research centers. There are 16 undergraduate major programmes and 19 MA programmes. In addition, all departments offer research programmes on M.Phil. and Ph.D. levels.

Department of Chinese Language and Literature

The Department is the oldest academic unit at CUHK. The Department offers diversified programmes including PhD, MPhil, MA and undergraduate programmes. The University Core courses of Chinese are also offered by the Department which aim at laying a solid Chinese language foundation for undergraduate students.

There has been a clear position of the Department that sets a foothold in Asia with a global vision. We also aim at combining tradition with modernity, promoting traditional culture while also keeping pace with the progress of our times.

Postgraduate Research Programme

The Division of Chinese Language and Literature offers diversified programmes leading to such higher degrees as MPhil and PhD. The areas of research studies include Chinese Linguistics, Classical Chinese Texts, Classical Chinese Literature and Modern Chinese Literature.
